STATE CONTESTS OVERSHADOWED

Local Fights in Danville Are Absorbing Interest

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Danville, Va., August 3.—With only one more day before the balloting begins this city is much interested in the results of the Democratic primary election to be held on Tuesday, when three State officers will be nominated in addition to a complete ticket of such local offices as sergeant. Commonwealth's attorney, clerk of the courts. Commissioner of the Revenue, Treasurer and member of the House of Delector. gates.

In fact, the State contests have been overshadowed by the strenuous camoversnadowed by the strenuous campaign made by candidates for local positions, and while a big vote is expected it is safe to say that a large proportion of the voters will go to the boils without any choice for either Lieutenant-Governor, Attorney-General

In the fight for Lieutenant-Governor very little has been said for any of the candidates, except Ellyson, and it is the opinion of the men best informed on political conditions that the present Lieutenant-Governor will receive a substantial majority in Danville.

In the campaign for Attorney-General the situation is more complicated. Judge Williams, a native of this countries.

In the campaign for Attorney-General the situation is more complicated. Judge Williams, a native of this county, is expected to carry the city, although Mr. Pollard will receive a good vote and may run the incumbent a close race in Danville. Mr. Cumming is expected to real and any run the incumbent a close race in Danville. more active in his behalf.

The local contests are being strenuously fought. All of the candidates were out in full force yesterday, and they are not expected to relax their efforts until the polls close Tuesday.

For House of Delegates, four men are aspiring to the one seat from Danville-W. Warren Ferrell, a young at-torney; Berryman Green, Jr., a son of the late Judge Berryman Green, memthe late Judge Berryman Green, member of the Constitutional Convention; Charles Orchard, a business man, and Harry Wooding, Jr., lawyer, and son of the Mayor. Ferrell and Orchard have made public speeches, while the other two candidates have contented them-

For City Sergeant, the incumbent, P. H. Boisseau, who has held office for years, is being opposed by B. C. Cole-young attorney, who is well-known among the younger members of the bar throughout the State, being a former student of the University of Virginia law school. For clerk of the courts the race is a three-cornered one, John R. Cook, who has held the office for about ten years, having to oppose B. W. Beach and W. H. Jones, both business men here. The campaign has been tree from personalities, and as a rule conducted on a high plane.
